

Teaching Professions Open House

Four County Career Center's Career paths for the Teaching Professions program will be hosting two Open Houses for current 11th grade students interested in pursuing the field of education after high school. This is a senior only program and is open to all next year's seniors in the four county area. Through this program students will earn FREE college credit, experience the classroom through mentoring, and work directly with students in the classroom.

Open House will be held Tuesday, February 21 at the Serrick Center's Cultural Arts Center on The Defiance College campus and on Thursday, February 23 in the Voinovich Auditorium at Northwest State Community College. Both Open Houses will be held from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. Program instructor, Bev Emch, and current Teaching Professions students will be available to answer questions about the program. Student work will also be on display.
