

Jr. Medical Reserve Corp.

Mentoring students from the Four County Career Center Health Careers class recently started a Jr. Medical Reserve Corp. In this program, the students created a program and talked with 1st graders in the Fulton county schools teaching them proper hand washing and how germs are spread. They also incorporated a “preparedness game” where Health Careers students talked to 1st graders about “what ifs” certain things happen.

Health Careers instructor, Karen Walker, coordinated the program with the elementary schools.
