

Electrical Hosts Guest Speakers

As part of the Four County Career Center's Electrical career and technical education training, students recently had the opportunity to host several guest speakers from First Energy/Toledo Edison. They talked to the students about the PSI (Power Systems Institute) program that is offered through First Energy at Owens Community College. They also showed the students the lineman trucks and some of the tools of the trade.
